THE HERALD AND GLOBE,
Rutland, Vermont.

85th Year. The Oldest, Largest and Best Vermont Newspaper.

THE DAILY HERALD AND GLOBE,

Is published every morning (Sundays excepted) and contains full Associated Press telegraphic reports up to the time of going to press, with complete local and editorial departments, and aims to be a finished newspaper in all respects, giving a careful epitome of the world's doings each day. It is a paper suited to the wants of a merchant, manufacturer, and all business men; is printed in season for the early morning trains out of Rutland, and can be laid on the breakfast table of subscribers near the line of a railroad at any point within a radius of 40 miles of Rutland.

THE WEEKLY HERALD AND GLOBE,

a large quarto sheet of 64 columns, is published every Thursday morning, and is the largest weekly in Vermont. It is made up of selected matter from the daily, contains a full summary of the home and foreign news of the week, stock and dairy market reports, and has a complete agricultural department. It is a paper exactly suited to the wants of the farmer and all residents of the smaller towns away from the line of railway communication, being especially designed for the households of the rural population, and a necessity to all persons of that class in Southwestern Vermont.

The high character which the HERALD AND GLOBE has always held as a political, news and family journal, during the eighty-four years of its existence, will be fully and ably maintained during the coming year. The two functions of a newspaper—a vehicle of news and an organ of public opinion—will be constantly kept by the HERALD AND GLOBE at the highest standard. It will continue to be the most enterprising Vermont journal, furnishing its readers all legitimate news promptly, and giving more reading matter than any other paper in the State. It will comment upon all occurrences that seem to demand notice with its usual ability, fairness and candor. In short, the HERALD AND GLOBE will continue to be the largest, strongest, most influential, best, and (considering size and quality) cheapest newspaper in Vermont, keeping abreast of the times in all the departments of a complete family journal.

FACTS FOR ADVERTISERS.

Advertisers will advance their own interests by a thoughtful perusal of the following facts: The HERALD AND GLOBE presents unequalled attractions as an advertising medium to merchants, manufacturers and all business men who wish to get the fullest returns for their money. No paper in Vermont approaches it in value as a medium through which to reach the best class of consumers, and its prices, based on circulation, are greatly below the rates of any other paper in the State.

The actual circulation of the DAILY HERALD AND GLOBE almost equals the combined circulation of all the other Vermont dailies while its advertising rates are about one-third as much. The Daily Herald and Globe gives much greater value for the money than any other Vermont daily.

The WEEKLY HERALD AND GLOBE has a larger circulation than any other Vermont weekly with one exception, and it is the very best advertising medium in the State for these reasons: Its large circulation; its intelligent readers; its ability; the fact that it has constantly visited the families of nearly all its readers for more than half a century gives an influence to all that appears in its columns possessed by no paper of fugitive growth or feeble existence. The Weekly Herald and Globe gives much greater value for the money than any other Vermont weekly.

The skillful advertiser—the man who understands his business; the man who puts his money where it will “do the most good”—never fails to take into consideration the character of a paper and the class of persons who read it, for he knows that the average of purchases made by the settled, responsible classes—those who are able to buy the paper they read and pay for it in advance—is out of all proportion greater than the average of purchases made by the transient, wholly irresponsible class reached by a certain kind of ephemeral, irresponsible publications—alleged newspapers. We invite advertisers to investigate the above facts.

HISTORICAL SKETCH OF RUTLAND.

The charter of Rutland was granted by the governor of New Hampshire September 7, 1761. The first named grantee was John Murray, an Irishman, from Rutland, Mass., who probably named the town. The territory was also claimed by New York, and a charter was also issued the same year by Col. John Henry Lydius, under the name of Fairfield, and was for a time disputable territory. The territory had been the highway and camping ground of early pioneers, the Indian and the soldier passing to and fro, among the new settlements, from 1730 to its settlement. James Mead was the first white settler in 1770; he built a log house near the falls at Centre Rutland. In 1773, Rutland had 33 families. In 1775, Rutland had war at Ticonderoga, and the siege of Quebec. During the Revolutionary war there were two forts and two militia companies, eighty taxable inhabitants, two representatives in the legislature. Seven of the eastern legislatures of the state were held here, the last in 1784. The old State House is now standing in a good state of preservation and is occupied as a dwelling. Rutland county was established in 1781, and Rutland made the County Seat. An ancient Gazeeteer thus describes the town:

"Rutland is on the banks of Otter creek, fifty-five miles from its mouth, in Lake Champlain, fifty-seven miles north of Bennington, forty-five miles west of Windsor, 60 miles south-east of Burlington, 33° south. South-east from Middlebury, latitude 43° 36', longitude 72° 51' west. In the center of the town is a high hill, on which is a pleasant village containing the county buildings; pipe clay is found here, which has been wrought into crucibles, that prove very durable.

Rutland, from its earlier history, has been divided into two "parishes" — Rutland and West Rutland. Many of the earlier settlements were made at West Rutland, which is now the centre of the great marble industry of Vermont. For nearly a half century Rutland was but a stable old town, with too little growth in business. Such only as was natural to the local seat of government of a country in olden time. However, many of the leading citizens of the state had their residence here, and exerted large influence in the organization of the new state, and promotion of the progress of her civil and religious institutions. The marble deposits were known from its early settlement. And after its practical development, in 1846, the town began to increase in business and population. The completion of the Rutland railroad from Boston, Rutland and Washington from Troy, and the Western Vermont railroads made Rutland a railway center, and an important point of distribution. From that period, its business has increased until it has many leading and prominent industries, which have rapidly increased its resources, increased its inhabitants until it is now a thriving town of nearly 15,000 population. It has the finest public buildings in the state, and three of the largest and best hotels.

The recent removal of the Howe Scale Works, under the management of Hon. George A. Merrill and Ex-Governor John B. Page, has given a new and important impetus to business, and other new enterprises are now projected. Its local industries, churches, social and civil institutions, are fully detailed in another place. Rutland has furnished many citizens, native and adopted, who have attained wide reputation, some of them a national fame. Four governors of this state had their residence here. Israel Smith, Charles K. Williams, John B. Page and the present governor, Redfield Proctor. Three United States senators, Israel Smith, Nathaniel Chipman, Solomon Foot, and several members of congress; among whom may be mentioned George T. Hodges and Charles N. Joyce, the present incumbent. In the literary world Samuel Williams, L. L. D., Rev. Walter Colton, D. D., Prof. James Davie Busler, L. L. D., and Mrs. Julia C. R. Dorr, one of the most distinguished literary women of the present period. Rutland is a beautiful town, lying under the shadows of the Green Mountains, famed for its beautiful scenery, the quiet home of intelligence, refinement, and all that makes life pleasant. Enterprise has pushed business into it, wealth is sleeping under her fields, waiting only for skill and labor to come to awaken it into beautiful forms. The chrysalis state between a quiet town and a city, is fast developing into a city, in name as well as reality.

This, in brief, is a sketch of the Rutland of the past and the present.

MARBLE INTERESTS.

Rutland may be called the marble center or market of the United States. Its quarries, mills and works entitle the town to the name often given it of the "Marble City." Upon it, measurably, its prosperity and growth has been founded. The existence of marble, was known to the early settlers of the town. The first practical opening was made by William F. Barnes, Esq, in 1840. Although Smith Sherman, and Moses Jackman, of Castleton, had operated somewhat, in opening marble deposits previous to this date, but the actual and successful quarrying, dates to 1840.

The Rutland Marble Company, is the largest in interest of any of the marble dealers of Rutland. John N. Baxter, one of the leading men of the town, is general superintendent. This company has been in existence about fifteen years. It possesses a large area of marble, and in all its resources and appointments is extensive. Five quarries are worked by the company. Eight diamond drill channelling machines are in use, and several of the Wardwell patent. The marble is mostly worked into slabs, and in addition to the regular business of the company, a semi-annual trade sale is held, several of the marble firms are supplied by this company under contract. Their mills are of solid structure, and are run night and day. They also have control of the Continental mills located at Centre Rutland, and a branch mill at Salem, N. Y., called the Baxter Manufacturing Company. Some three hundred men are employed at their various mills and quarries.

The Ripley marble works are among the oldest in Rutland, thirty-three years ago, the company was organized by W. Y. Ripley and Wm. F. Barnes. It has been through several transformations, successful in all its relations, until it is now, since the death of the elder Ripley, known as Ripley and Sons, composed of Gen. W. Y. W. Ripley, and Gen. Edward H. Ripley. The marble is furnished them by the Rutland Marble Company, under a contract made in 1850. Their mills are located at Centre Rutland. They give special attention to monumental work and do an extensive business.

Next, in age, are the extensive works of Sheldons and Slauson. This is second in age of the marble works of Rutland, Charles Sheldon has been in the business for thirty years. This company work four quarries, they have the largest marble mill in the world, and besides one of smaller dimensions, which are located at the quarries. Several hundred men are employed by them. They, beside their other large orders, made several thousand headstones in one year, by the sandblast process, for soldiers' graves in the national cemeteries.

The firm of Gilson & Woodfin is located at West Rutland, and the quarry near that of the Rutland Marble Company. It has been in operation some twenty years, by various parties, the original proprietors being Col. Alonson Allen, and Joseph Adams of Fair Haven. They employ about one hundred men, and special attention is given to monumental stock.

Another quarry extensively worked is that of Sherman, & Gleason of Castleton. The mills that saw the marble, are located at Castleton and Hydeville. This quarry was opened in 1855, and a large and lucrative business has resulted from its operation.

Extensive works of the Columbian Marble Company, under the superintendence and management of Rockwood Barrett, Esq. The marble is designated as "Variegated" or clouded marble, and meets with great public favor. The quarry was opened some ten years ago, near Sutherland Falls. It may be called a fancy marble and is used for varied purposes. It is brought in the block to the mill located in the village of Rutland, to be cut, polished and wrought into forms of different design. The mill is a substantial structure, and the business of the company is being constantly enlarged. This company was the first to introduce machinery for turning and finishing marble.

The Sutherland Falls Marble Company, located six miles from Rutland, under the management of Redfield Proctor, is among the oldest and most successful quarries in Rutland. The marble produce is of the clouded or mourning variety which is popular and leads to extensive sales. Several quarries are worked by this company. The oldest quarry was opened forty years ago. There are three mills. This company has several lathes constantly employed in turning and finishing marble.

Another marble quarry and mills is located two miles north of Centre Rutland, called the "Eureka" which is managed by Flint Bros. The mill is of large capacity and is run night and day.

This is but a brief sketch of the history of the marble business, and foreshadows only an out line of its value and extent. In addition to the matter of quarrying and sawing, there are several large establishments for working and designing, polishing and turning marble by machinery, which is an independant industry, which promises ere long to become an important addition to the business of Rutland.

These establishments will be found classified under their proper headings in the business, and also in the advertising department, of this volume. To illustrate the comparative merits of Italian and American marble there can be seen near the office of the "Rutland Marble Co.," in Centre Rutland, a large monument in a crumbling condition bearing a placard with the following inscriptions:

"This Monument is a sample of the best quality of Italian marble after twenty years exposure to the weather. Cost $6000. Erected in Albany Cemetery, 1853. Taken down, 1877, and its place supplied by a Monument of American Marble."

A SOLDIERS' MONUMENT.

The absence of a soldier's monument is to be ascribed to forgetfulness, rather than a lack of appreciation of our nation's defenders. The observation of "Decoration Day" should be coupled with the erection of a suitable memorial, upon which the names of Rutland's martyrs should be inscribed.

The effect of such a tribute, not only honors the memory of the dead, but serves as an incentive to the living, who may, at a future day, be required to emulate the patriotism of their illustrious ancestors.

Nearly all the notable towns in New England have already attested their gratitude to those who died that the "Union might live."

THE EDUCATIONAL RESOURCES.

Rutland, like most of the other first-class towns in New England, has had a care for her public schools; and ample facilities for acquiring a good education are afforded to all her children.

The graded school in the village of Rutland, especially, is perhaps as close an approximation to perfection as can be found in New England.

During the past year, large additions to the school buildings have been made to meet the demand created by the growth and increase of population of the town.

Rutland seems to have learned what all towns must learn, sooner or later, that the success of her schools depends mainly on good school-room accommodations, an intelligent and active board of managers, and competent teachers.

Through the liberality and intelligence of her tax payers, she has secured all of these.

THE CONVENT OF OUR LADY OF VERMONT.

It is situated on West street, No. 52. This institution is directed by the Sisters of the Holy Names of Jesus and Mary. They came to Rutland in January, 1870, and first resided in Main street. In June, 1874, they purchased their present dwelling on West street, a more central part of the town. Their course of study, the same as in the Mother House at Hochelaga, Montreal, comprises the various branches of a solid, useful and ornamental education.

The discipline of the school is mild, but firm and regular. The pupils, at present date, number sixty.

ST. PETER'S PAROCHIAL SCHOOL.

It is attached to St. Peter's R. C. Church; is under the direction of the Sisters of St. Joseph, and has an average attendance of 375 pupils.

WATER SUPPLY.

Rutland has made ample provision for a good supply of water. About twenty-five years ago she built an aqueduct of iron pipes from the mountains to the village. The increased population, however, made necessary an additional supply, and, in 1878, a new and larger aqueduct was built which furnished an abundance of excellent water. The cost of these water works has been about $125,000.00.

The new aqueduct affords also efficient means of extinguishing fires, and will, no doubt enable the village to dispense with most of the fire engines, as the hydrants in the streets will throw water over any buildings.

Rutland may fairly claim to be as completely supplied with water as any town in New England.

SEWERAGE.

Special attention has been given to this subject, and a comprehensive system of drainage has been adopted and laid out. Already several of the main sewers, built of brick, have been constructed, and others are in process of construction; while the smaller or branch sewers are being built in all of the streets.

These smaller sewers are built mainly of the Akron or the Ripley drain tile. It is contemplated to carry forward this work, so that by the end of next year the entire village will be perfectly supplied in this respect.

THE PEOPLE'S GASLIGHT COMPANY.

Incorporated in 1867, with a capital of $70,000. They manufacture about 20,000 feet of gas per day, at $2.50 per thousand. The quality is first-class being of 22 candle power, and manufactured under the Lowe patent.

THE VERMONT HOUSE OF CORRECTION.

Is pleasantly located on Pine Hill, with an entrance on West street, west of the railroad bridge, and was erected by the county and state in 1878, for the safe keeping, correction, employment and reformation of all persons above the age of sixteen years convicted of offenses for which the punishment by law is only fine or imprisonment in the County Jail, or by both fine and such imprisonment, with or without costs of prosecution.

The building is also used for County Jail.

It is an extensive and solid brick structure, costing $45,000 and its design for utility and comfort very creditable. It is well ventilated and heated by steam.

In passing through the building, the visitor is at once attracted by the degree of care, system and cleanliness which characterizes the kitchen, laundry, bath room and sleeping apartments.

The labor of the male convicts is utilized in a large work-shop provided with machinery for finishing marble slabs etc., where several men are employed to direct the convicts.

THE CHURCHES OF RUTLAND.

On October 20th, 1773, a Congregational church was formed, consisting of fourteen members, over which the Rev. Benajah Roots became pastor. They worshipped in a log meeting-house, situated at Centre Rutland. About 1780 the people of East Rutland withdrew and worshipped by themselves, and in June, 1784, they began the erection of a house of worship on the road leading north from the village; the site of which is marked now by the old burying ground, which was on its north side. Services were first held there in the following year, though it was not entirely finished until September, 1790. In 1787 the town was divided into two parishes.

THE CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH, OF THE VILLAGE OF RUTLAND.

Was organized October 5th, 1788. Rev. Samuel Williams, L. L. D., was its first minister, though he was not installed. Its pastors have been as follows:

Rev. Heman Ball, D. D., ordained Feb. 1797; died Dec. 17, 1821.

Rev. Charles Walker D. D., installed Jan. 1, 1823; dismissed March 13, 1833.

Rev. William Mitchell, installed March 14, 1833; dismissed June 2, 1846.

Rev. Silas Aiken, D. D., installed March 29, 1849; dismissed July 1, 1863.

Rev. Norman Seaver, D. D., ordained August 28, 1860; dismissed November 4, 1868.

Rev. James Gibson Johnson, D. D., installed April 21, 1870.

The first house of worship stood on the road leading north from the village, and was occupied in 1785. The second house was built in 1819, and stood on the ground now occupied by the dwelling-house of Col. Geo. A. Merrill. The present house was dedicated June 14, 1860. The chapel was added in 1873, and was first occupied for service on the last Sunday of that year.

The church has always been united and prosperous, and now has over six hundred members.

FIRST CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH, WEST RUTLAND.

On the 20th day of October, 1773 (three years after the settlement of the town), a small company met at the house of Rev. Benajah Roots, and by his assistance and direction, in the words of the ancient records "were incorporated into a church at Rutland, on the Otter creek."

The first meeting house of this society was built of logs, and situated on the west side of what was known as "Meeting House Hill," in Centre Rutland, near what is now the entrance to Evergreen Cemetery. Mr. Roots remained with the struggling church most of the time until his death, which occurred in 1787.

After this date the church has been under the care of the following pastors: Rev. Lemuel Haynes, from 1788 to 1818; Rev. Amos Drury, from 1819 to 1829; Rev. Lucius L. Tilden, from 1830 to 1839; Rev. Aldace Walker, D.D., from 1840 to 1862; Rev. Henry M. Grout, from 1862 to 1867; Rev. Geo. L. Gleason, from 1867 to 1869; Rev. Jas. R. Bourne, from 1870 to 1872; and by Rev. J. K. Williams, acting pastor, November, 1872, to the present time.

BAPTIST CHURCH

As an organization the Baptist church, and society dates back to about the beginning of the present century. The present organizations, however, date respectively from 1823 and 1827. The first church edifice was built in 1827, on the corner of Main and Washington streets. This edifice remained standing and continued to be used for the purposes to which it was devoted, until the erection of the present beautiful edifice on Centre street, after which it was sold and two brick houses, built out of the old materials, now occupy its site. The corner-stone of the present edifice was laid July 18, 1871, and the completed structure, costing some $45,000, was formally dedicated, and opened for use Sept. 30, 1873. This church is in a very flourishing condition. It has an indebtedness of less than $9,000, which is being rapidly reduced; a membership of over 400; their Sunday school is in successful operation, pays its bills as promptly as a bank, and does quite liberally for all benevolent purposes. During its history it has sent out eight persons as missionaries, and at the present time is supporting a native preacher among the Telogoos, and a Bible reader among the Karens. It has always stood squarely on the right side of all the great questions of the day, and has much notable history in connection with the anti-slavery and temperance movements. It has recently published an excellent manual, which will give any one who desires, a view of its history, doctrines, rules of order, membership, etc.

At West Rutland there is practically a branch church, having the ordinances regularly administered, and receiving members. At North Clarendon, a mission station is maintained. The pastor of this church, in connection with his pastoral work, is the editor of the only Baptist paper published in the state—The Vermont Baptist—established in March, 1879.

EPISCOPAL CHURCH.

The Episcopalians in Rutland organized as a parish in or about the year 1816. They were without a house of worship until 1832, when the Rev. John A. Hicks, D.D., became the rector. In the following year a church was erected on Main street, not far from the north side of West. Dr. Hicks remained rector till 1860. The Right Rev. John Henry Hopkins, D.D., Bishop of Vermont, was rector for one year, till 1861. He was succeeded by the Rev. Roger S. Howard. During his rectorship the present church was built and consecrated. Dr. Howard resigned in 1867, he was succeeded by the Rev. John Milton Peck. The Rev. William Harris, DD., was the next rector under whom the present Sunday school chapel was added. Dr. Harris resigned in 1876, when the present rector, the Rev. Walter Mitchell, was called and accepted the charge at Advent. West Rutland was originally in the jurisdiction of Trinity parish, Rutland. Services were begun there by the Rev. Dr. Hicks, of Rutland. The Bishop of the Diocese held occasional services there. The Rev. D. Ellis Milles took charge of the Mission September, 1859. Articles of association were adopted Sept. 12th, of the same year, Mr. Milles was succeeded by the Rev. A. H. Bailey, D.D., who continued till 1864. Since then the parish has been in the charge of the rectors of Trinity church, Rutland. The corner-stone of the present church edifice was laid in 1878, by the Right Rev. W. H. A. Bissell, D.D., Bishop of Vermont, and the church was consecrated by the same, Dec. 4th, 1879. The Rev. Walter Mitchell was elected rector, Easter 1877. The Rev. Edward P. Lee, Deacon in charge, entered upon his duties in July, 1879.

METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH.

The M. E. Church was organized in this town about fifty years ago at Centre Rutland and at East Rutland in 1854. Rev. John Parker was the first preacher at the latter place. Wm. A. Bunnell and wife, Mrs. Mary Thrall, Miss Jane Thrall, Miss Jane and Lucy Dunklee, were the original members. The introduction of public service in East Rutland was bitterly opposed and persecuted. Application was made by Mrs. Burnett, for the old Court House in which to hold the first service; while it was used by the Universalists and for almost every other purpose, the privilege was denied. Service was first held in the old depot, the preacher standing on the platform and the people sitting in passenger coaches, which were drawn up in front. The cold weather coming, the people removed to the corner of Merchants' row and West street, in the third story of the old Perkins' block. In this place service was held until the summer of 1855, when the church building started under the the pastorate of Rev. John Parker, was completed by his successor, Rev. A. Campbell. The present site of the church was donated by Wm. J. Ripley, deceased, then a member at Centre Rutland. After the church at the East Village was erected, the Centre church was bought by the heirs of Wm. J. Ripley, and by them preserved as a memento of respect to their parents. This society now owns a fine church property on West street, consisting of church edifice, parsonage for the pastor, house for sexton, sheds, etc. The present membership is a little short of three hundred, with a congregation of between five and six hundred, and Sunday school enrolling upwards of four hundred. The prosperity of this church, under all the circumstances, is well nigh unparalleled. Rev. John Wesley Quinlan is the present pastor.

ST. PETERS CATHOLIC CHURCH.

Was established in 1855, by Rev. Father Druin, and was succeeded in 1857, by Rev. Charles J. Boylan, who has been its faithful pastor ever since.

His zeal and untiring labors are too well known to need a recital from us. The present new edifice ranks among the most elegant and durable specimens of church architecture in the state, and its appearance to the traveler upon visiting Rutland adds much to the beauty of this portion of the valley.

The number of actual communicants at present numbers about 2,000. Numerous religious organizations are attached to the church.

FRENCH CATHOLIC CHURCH.

The French Catholics erected their present edifice in 1869, under the pastorship of Rev. Father Gagne who was succeeded in 1871, by Rev. Father Cloarec, who officiated for seven months, after which Rev. Father Cardinal remained three years and was succeeded by Rev. Father St. Onge, who remained its pastor for one year, until 1876, when the present pastor, Rev. Father Gelot, was appointed its pastor. Its communicants number about 700.

There is also attached to this congregation a branch, or more properly called, a mission church in West Rutland, with an additional number of 275 communicants.

ST. BRIDGET'S CATHOLIC CHURCH.

The Catholics in West Rutland held regular Divine services for the first time under the pastorship of Rev. Father Druin in 1855, and was succeeded by Rev. Father Piccard who remained until Rev. Father Lynch erected the present edifice in 1860, and continued its pastor until 1869, when he was succeeded by Rev. Charles O. Reilly, who is its present pastor.

The number of communicants number 1300.

ST. DOMINICK'S CATHOLIC CHURCH,

(Sutherland Falls.)

There are about seventy-five Catholic families residing at Sutherland Falls. The work of building a Catholic church was begun on July 7th, 1879. Governor Proctor donated the stone for the foundation, and $100 in money. The corner-stone was laid August 17th, 1879. The church is not yet completed; work is still being carried on, and services, however, will soon be held in the new church. The church will be under the invocation of St. Dominick.

THE MANUFACTURING INTERESTS.

HOWE'S SCALE COMPANY.

Rutland has reason to take just pride in the new industry which was located in our midst, June, 1878, through the efforts of its efficient managers, Col. George A. Merrill, president, and Ex-Governor, John B. Page, treasurer. The Howe Scale Company now employs 200 to 300 men, has been an established institution for some years, and has met with varied success, until it came into possession of the gentlemen who now hold the controlling power. Since the removal of the works to Rutland (which is the best distributing point in Vermont), a more prosperous future opens before the company. The scales are the superiors of any now manufactured, and have fully merited the acknowledgment received at the hands of scientific men, both at our own centennial, at Philadelphia, and the recent exposition at Paris, in both of which, gold, silver and bronze medals, accompanied with words of highest commendation, were awarded for superiority over all other scales, or weighing apparatus. The locating of this institution in Rutland is the most important enterprise since the building of the several railways, which have made the town what it has been in the past, and this addition marks her as the most prosperous and enterprising locality in the state. The people have reason to appreciate the efforts of the movers in this giant industry, for giving the town a jog forward, which it could have scarcely realized from any other source.

The exhibition of the Howe scales at the centennial was among the finest displays made in the mechanical department, and several awards of medals were made to them. An equally fine display was made at the recent Paris exposition and they were awarded the grand gold medal and special medals of gold, silver and bronze. They were the only scales selected at the Paris exposition for the French National Museum.

MANSFIELD & STIMSON.

Foundry and Machine Works, were established in 1853. This firm is known throughout the United States as manufacturers of Marble Slate Mills and Quarrying Machinery and Agricultural Fork Machinery and for the special attention given to Millwright work.

The facilities enjoyed by this establishment, enables them to construct and manufacture to such a varied extent, that we refer to their advertisement for a fuller explanation.

THE LINCOLN IRON WORKS.

On West Street.

THOMAS ROSS, Proprietor.

This establishment is fully equipped with all the requisite machinery for executing all kinds of machine work and castings. A specialty is made here of the Merriman patent stone sawing machine and other stone working machinery, many of the largest mills throughout the United States and Canada having received their equipment from these works.

Another specialty of these works, and closely allied to the former, is the construction of derricks, travelers and hoisting machinery, including modifications adopted to the great variety of purposes, for which they are required, ranging in capacity from fifty tons downward, and in variety from the simple hand power, to those having all their operations actuated by steam.

The establishment is known throughout the country among marble and stone men, and has filled orders for its specialties from abroad.

THE STEAM STONE CUTTER COMPANY.

It was organized in 1865, and is extensively engaged in the manufacture of "Wardwell's Stone Channeling and Quarrying Machines," which are indisputably the greatest labor-saving machines in the market. The Wardwell machine is covered by twelve patents, and is the first practicable channeling machine ever invented.

It is now in successful operation in all the leading quarries of the country, and its advantages in quarrying marble, sand-stone and lime-stone, are inestimable.

THE RUTLAND BOOT AND SHOE COMPANY.

It is the only manufacturing and wholesale dealers of the articles in Rutland, and was founded in 1856, by Geo. E. Graves & Co. The present proprietor being a member of the company. In 1860 the style of the firm changed to Sadler & Sweet, and in 1866 changed to Rutland Boot and Shoe Co., with E. F. Sadler as its proprietor. The company does a flourishing business through Vermont and New York state.

CHAS. P. HARRIS MANUFACTURING CO.

On extending the business devoted chiefly to the manufacture of lumber, doors, sash and other building material, Chas. P. Harris & Co., formed in 1879, a stock company named as above, consolidating the old firm and the Rutland Nail Works, which they bought out in 1877, adding a new department for the manufacture of cane seated chairs, church wood work and school desks.

It has been the special aim of the old firm as of the present company, to place at the head of each department thoroughly practical, competent men, who would allow nothing but good workmanship, which would recommend itself to be sent out from their works.

The fact that their manufactures are best liked, where most used, that they have been sent as far west as the Mississippi river, and are to be found in various parts of New England, New York and other localities, have established a confidence in this concern, that leads those who buy of them to always look for merit in the goods made by them.

RUTLAND FOUNDRY COMPANY.

For over 20 years this company have been carrying on the iron business, making a specialty of car wheels, with general railroad and building castings.

The special guarantee that they make, as to the amount of wear each wheel will stand, necessitates the use of the very best grades of iron, and places them among the strongest wheels manufactured in this country. If failing within that time they are replaced free of expense.

"THE HERALD AND GLOBE."

Of the institutions of Rutland, none has contributed more to the good of the town; its reputation abroad as a wealthy, enterprising and successful business centre, or its growth in population, than the Rutland Herald. The first number of the Weekly Herald was issued by S. & S. Williams, on Monday, Dec. 8, 1794, and since that date it has regularly made its appearance on successive publication days, never missing an issue. In its eighty-six years of existence, the Herald has undergone many changes in size and appearance, as well as in proprietorship; but under all its proprietors, and amid all its changes, it has steadily improved—always aiming at the highest excellence. From a sheet 17x21 inches, with a quarto-page 10½x17, it was successively enlarged until it reached its present size 37x50 inches, with an octavo page 18½x25. In the discussion of all public questions, the Herald has taken a vigorous part, always defending the right and condemning the wrong, and upholding law, morality and nationality. On Monday, April 29, 1861, the first number of the Daily Herald was issued, under the pressure of the war excitement. The issue of a daily paper in Rutland was an experiment, but not long a doubtful one. The paper was received with great favor, and soon had a circulation reaching into the thousands. The close of the war found it firmly established and prosperous. It was published by Geo. A. Tuttle & Co. in connection with their job department and book store, until 1871, when a division of the business placed the proprietorship of the Daily and Weekly Herald in the hands of A. H. Tuttle. In 1877, the "Globe"—a daily and weekly paper started in 1873—was absorbed by the "Herald," and the consolidated paper was called the "Herald and Globe," under which name it is now published, Mr. A. H. Tuttle being the manager.

TUTTLE & Co.

are proprietors of the largest wholesale paper house, book depository, steam printing and blank book manufacturing establishment in Vermont. The firm at present consists of Harley C. Tuttle, Egbert C. Tuttle, and F. G. Tuttle.

The business was founded in 1840, by George A. Tuttle (the father of these gentlemen), who at the age of 24 came to Rutland and took charge of the business and financial department of the Rutland Weekly Herald, then forty-six years established—which position he held until 1850, when he withdrew from that concern, and started a general job printing office, book store, and bindery, and entered into a contract with the Herald publisher, which had changed hands, to print the same.

In 1856 the proprietor died, and Mr. Tuttle purchased the Herald with which he was connected until 1871, part of the time in his own name, and then G. A. Tuttle & Co., Tuttle & Gay, Tuttle, Gay & Co., and now Tuttle & Co.

At the breaking out of the rebellion a daily paper was started, which has grown into the present Rutland Daily Herald, which together with the weekly, is published by the "Herald and Globe association," a firm independent from Tuttle & Co., recently formed to push the circulation and influence of those papers, while Tuttle & Co., have their hands full in the publishing, book-binding, job printing, stationery and general jobbing business.

Having carefully imparted his business discipline to his sons, he withdrew from the firm in 1878, after an honorable and successful career, which in its details would illumine the pages of biography.

In the law book department stands also alone as large publishers and wholesale dealers, having published for fourteen years the annual "Vermont Reports" from Vol. 27 to Vol. 40, inclusive, and re-published several elementary works.

The job printing office is very complete, containing in its press-room five steam presses, and in the composing-room one large hand press and one of the best assortments of type to be found in the state; while the bindery, a finely appointed one, containing six different machines for turning out rapidly and well the large state work and other jobs this enterprising firm secure. Up to 1871 the Rutland Daily, and Weekly Herald were published by them, but at that time this interest was sold out to the oldest brother, A. H. Tuttle, who has since associated with him other gentlemen, and they are issued the same as before in the "Herald Building," but owned by the "Herald and Globe Association."

They are also publishers of "Conant's Drill book," used by the schools of the state generally, also "Rollins' Masonic Monitor," adopted by the Masonic fraternity as standard, and numerous other works.

We have already made a more extended sketch of this enterprising house than we intended, but when one attempts to describe an old-established, well-managed, and popular house it is difficult to stop at any given point, for their whole history is instructive and interesting.

THE REVIEW INQUIRER.

This live weekly is published every Wednesday, and in the same office the editor and publisher, Mr. H. W. Love, also issues the "Sunday Review" every Sunday morning.

For fuller information respecting those enterprising weeklies we refer to the advertising department.

THE MERCANTILE INTERESTS.

Rutland may justly boast of the extent and variety of mercantile interests, as well as the notable integrity of its merchants.

THE JOBBING AND WHOLESALE HOUSES.

DUNN & CRAMTON—This firm was established in 1858, and have the largest and best assorted stock of house-furnishing goods, stoves, tinware, ranges, woodenware, etc., in the state of Vermont, and their customers may be found in every city and village in Vermont as well as New York state. Their five-story block on Merchant row is literally groaning under the weight of their immense stock. It is beyond question the most extensive jobbing house in the state.

L. G. KINGSLEY—This gentleman who has for many years, and at present is one of the most successful merchants in Rutland, is located in Ripley's marble block, where may be found a very large stock of hardware, cutlery, iron, steel, furniture, and in fact everything which belongs to a first-class establishment in its line. He is also sole agent for Howes Standard Scales.

E. D. KEYES & Co.—This firm was established in 1870, and during the past year transacted a business exceeding half a million dollars, now stands at the head of their line as jobbers of groceries, and West India goods in general. The firm comprises E. D. Keyes, and N. R. Bardy.

H. A. SAWYER & Co.—Are extensive jobbers of stationery, blank books, school books, wall papers, woodenware, tobacco, cigars, etc.

W. C. LANDON—Ranks among the leading houses in the line of flour, grain, seeds, hardware, iron, steel, beltings, agricultural tools, etc.

McCLURE & HALL—Are benevolently engaged in the promotion of harmony throughout Vermont, by their extensive sales of musical merchandise, and sell everything from a jews-harp to a church organ.

H. L. VERDER & Co.—Whose steam bakery is a household word, are still the leading manufacturers of crackers, soda biscuits, etc., in Vermont, and job their goods largely outside of the state.

BATES & SON—In addition to being the owners of one of the leading hotels in Vermont, are still jobbing extensively in the line of builders' and saddlery hardware, trunks, wagon woods, wheels, etc.

THE RETAIL TRADE OF RUTLAND.

It is so varied and extensive that we will be compelled to refer to the classified Business Directory, which will be found complete in the pages following the general list of residents.

It will be sufficient to say that the retail trade of Rutland meets all the requirements of its rapidly-growing population, so that it will not be found necessary to go outside of its corporate limits for the necessities or luxuries of life, which are furnished at the lowest New York and Boston prices.

THE IRREPRESSIBLE TELEPHONE.

The telephone just introduced in Rutland, by the Western Union Telegraph Co., is coming into general use among the merchants. The village authorities will also utilize it in establishing a code of signals in case of fires.

In preparing the foregoing Historical Sketch we desire to express our acknowledgments to Henry Clark, Esq., for the early reminiscences and marble interests of Rutland and to the clergyman, generally, for their church information.

It has been our aim to be reliable and full as possible and hope in the future as in the past to surpass our former efforts.

To all who have co-operated with us we feel grateful and remain.

The Public's Humble Servants,
R. S. DILLON & CO.

THE REVIEW-INQUIRER.

CONSOLIDATION OF THE RUTLAND INQUIRER AND THE RUTLAND REVIEW.

A live Newspaper — The newsiest and most independent in Vermont.

It grinds no axes. Supports no party. Suppresses no news and tells things as they are; using the right names for the right things. Its circulation is larger than any weekly paper in Rutland county, and only exceeded by one paper in the State. Published every Wednesday evening. Terms—one year, $1.25; 6 mos., 75 cts.; 3 mos., 40 cts., invariably in advance; $1.50 for back subscriptions taken before the advance rate was established.

H. W. LOVE, Editor and Publisher,
 6 Centre St., Morse Block, Rutland Vt.

THE SUNDAY REVIEW.

Published every Sunday morning at No. 6 Center Street, Morse Block, Rutland, Vt.

It contains all the Saturday and night telegraph reports from all over the world, besides every thing of local interest. The other general features are the same as of the Review-Inquirer.

Terms, $2.50 per year; $1.40, 6 mos.; 75 cts., 3 mos.;
 delivered by carriers

GOLD COIN

BASE BURNER, WITH REVERTIBLE FIRE AND

DOUBLE FIRE-POT

VERMONT STATE COLLEGES
0000303672356

Double Fire-Pot, which is used only under is one of the most desirable improvement in Burning Stoves, and has been used by millions. The lower illumination is between the two fire-pots, and is at all times as bright as the upper illumination, and at the same time the ashes and clinkers are not exposed to view as in all other stoves which have the lower illumination opposite the grate. At least 10 per cent of the fuel is saved by the use of the Double Fire-Pot, the heat radiating from between the two fire-pots instead of through a cast-iron fire-pot as in other stoves.

BASE HEATER

THE descending flues pass along ash-pot sides and into the base, giving the stove an unusually large amount of radiating surface.

THE LOWER FIRE-POT

can be shaken and ashes cleaned from front mica lights without opening the doors, thereby making the Gold Coin the cleanest working stove in the market.

THE GRATE

is arranged without a cross-bar, and so constructed that the centre can be drawn out, leaving a free opening for ashes and clinkers to fall into the ash pan.

NICKEL ORNAMENTS.

The Gold Coin is elaborately nickeled, having nickel panels, two nickel urn ornaments, nickel turn keys and hinge pins, and also two nickel rails, and eight rail tips.

FOR USING THE

GOLD COIN

BASE BURNER,

With Double Illumination and Double

- 1st. In starting a fire, first put on a few shavings the fire-pot with wood or charcoal; open the back lower front damper in ash pit door; as soon as become thoroughly ignited, close the front damper pit door, and supply with coal from top of stove;
the feeder cover and open the lower front damper;
fire brightens, close the back damper, and the draft will be downward into the base, through bottom to the exit pipe. NEVER ALLOW THE ENTIRELY EMPTY.
- 2d. To clean the Fire: First open check or pulling out rod on side of stove; open lower are removed daily, and see that the pipe is clear with shaker, shake the lower fire-pot; and remove by pulling out the centre of the grate which is a grate bar.
- 3d. Do not allow the ashes to accumulate as there is danger of burning out the grate underneath. Pull out the grate and see that the pipe collar of the stove, and also in the flue and not too far into the chimney to obstruct the draft.
- 4th. Regulate the heat and control the fire front damper in ash pit door, and check or side of stove, which checks draught by pulling 5th. When supplying the stove with fuel, open grate, close ash pit damper and
